Expect wandering insect behavior to continue for up to 3-4 weeks. Prior to death, bugs emerge at odd times of the day, and in plain view.

Expect some wandering insect behavior and possible activity directly after treatment. A second cycle may arrive while the insects move through their growth cycle and become visible. The residual from the treatment will affect the second cycle if the aftercare instructions are followed. Be patient and don't be alarmed. You will see a significant knockdown in 72 hours. The residual application barriers will keep working up to 3 months.

To enjoy the treatment's full effects and up to 3 months residual protection, you must follow these guidelines.
